View from the Chair

Firstly I'd like to thank our members for putting their faith in me as the new branch Chairman, and I'm sure you'd all like to join me in paying tribute to the outgoing Chair, Morris Elsworth who, together with his wife Fiona, has done an incredible job of leading the branch over the past decade. Fortunately for us Morris has now accepted the position of Honorary President.

This is also a time of change for our branch committee - with several new faces stepping forward to take on responsibilities, so I would like to give a very warm welcome aboard to Simon Randall, Sue Hirst, Eddie Street, Jim Thomas and Chris Smyth. These new recruits, together with our more experienced committee members, should guarantee a balance of fresh ideas and stability as we move forward. (See the Committee Contact list for full details). However, I would like also to pay special thanks to Andy Grant and Jim Thomas for the tremendous work they have put in to redesign and launch our new branch website - if you've not already seen it then please take a look as it will contain all the latest branch and national CAMRA news. (northdevon.camra.org.uk)

As for myself, I very much support CAMRA's core values and campaigns. In my 15 years as a CAMRA member I have been Social Secretary in two branches, have judged Pub and Club of the Year awards all over northern England, and have been Bar Manager at CAMRA beer festivals too numerous to mention. As chairman I look forward to building on the very firm foundations we have as a branch - a healthy membership, good social networks, and strong ties with our breweries and pubs. To this end, I have already reinstated regular committee meetings so that important issues can be discussed in depth before bringing any new proposals to branch meetings, where I hope to strike a better balance between business items and the opportunity to network with fellow members.

Now, with the summer upon us, I would like to encourage everyone to get behind our local pubs, particularly their annual beer festivals (see our branch calendar and website for full details!). Without your support many more may unfortunately join the growing list of national pub closures.

On one final note, you will doubtless be aware of the debate that has been raging for some time now about the future direction of CAMRA as a campaigning organisation. Is Revitalisation a good thing I ask myself, and in what direction should we be heading? Should we be supporting and campaigning for all pub goers, or should we stick with our traditional values of simply promoting real ale and real cider? And let's not get into the pros and cons of the New Craft Keg revolution! No doubt we all have our own views, otherwise we would all be drinking those top selling national brews from our Cornish friends. However, my personal view for what it's worth, is to carry on supporting our many fine local breweries and the many excellent north Devon pubs that sell their fantastic Real Ale.

RECYCLING

Nick Walters style at the Hip and Pistol

Having worked in Ilfracombe pubs for many years, Nick Walters is a well known and popular landlord. While at the Ship and Pilot he steered the pub to numerous awards, not least that of CAMRA branch Pub of the Year in both 2012 and 2014 together with at least 6 successive entries in the Good Beer Guide! Now with the opening of the nearby Hip and Pistol, Nick has at last realised his lifelong ambition to be landlord and owner of his very own pub! This former Tea Room has been transformed into a unique venue, decorated with Nick's own quirky take on the nautical theme. Check out the floor which depicts the bay around Ilfracombe, pinpointing interesting landmarks and shipwreck sites. Having myself scuba dived around this coast I know just what a talking point the floor has become!

Opened only a few months ago, the Hip and Pistol has quickly become a popular haunt for locals and visitors alike, attracting CAMRA members from near and far. There are usually four real ales on offer, two of which are always local, plus an ever growing number of real ciders, the quality of which is never short of Nick's very high standard. Serving excellent yet reasonably priced Pub Food prepared by a talented local chef is yet another reason to check out this destination pub.

Talking to Nick it soon becomes evident that although from the North of England, since arriving in Ilfracombe he has fully embraced the town and everything about it, describing it as his ideal place to live. Community spirit has always been important to Nick, involving himself and his customers in many local community and fund raising events over the years - fancy dress and live music being just two of their hallmarks. Knowing Nick, this is sure to continue at the Hip and Pistol, as seen by the recent themed event at the pub which raised over £500 for Ilfracombe Boxing Club funds.

The environment is another of Nick's passions, so no great surprise that on one Sunday each month there's now a collection and recycling event, organised and resourced by the pub, to clear plastic and other litter from local beaches.

The scheme has already expanded to clearing up other public places in the town, and as such has attracted considerable media interest both local and national. The collected waste is either then recycled or incinerated to generate clean energy in partnership with Coastal Recycling. The growing army of volunteers for their part are rewarded with a free hot lunch at the pub, so everyone's a winner! (And if you're interested in joining them, just contact Nick at the pub.)

In conclusion, I can only say that Nick Walters and his team from the Hip and Pistol are to be congratulated for bringing that something special to the town. Nick himself is a true force of nature, always on the go and planning the next scheme. With summer comes an imaginative plan to tackle the large garden area to the front of the pub, so don't be surprised in future if you see a throng of people outside in St James Place to match the growing numbers of customers already propping up the bar! A truly great pub to visit - I can certainly recommend you add it to your 'Bucket List' for the coming year.

The Busy Social Life of a CAMRA Member...

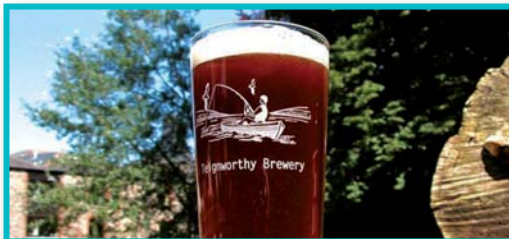

It's certainly been a very busy Spring for North Devon CAMRA as far as branch activities go, with a wide variety of social events to match every taste. In late February there was a celebratory lunch at the Portsmouth Arms to mark the successful conclusion of discussions with the Devon and Cornwall Rail Partnership to add additional stops to their normal Sunday service on the Tarka line between Barnstaple and Exeter. Rail executives were invited and regional colleagues from CAMRA were enlisted to lend support. Unfortunately, in the event, with a welcome committee and photographer stood on the platform eagerly awaiting the arrival of the VIPs on this inaugural run - the driver forgot to stop the train! But all was not lost. Passengers were able to disembark at the next station where taxis were hastily summoned to return travelers to the pub by which time, suitably embarrassed, the driver had phoned through to buy a pint for everyone who had been inconvenienced. Proper job!

March saw the return of a popular branch activity - tutored beer tasting at the Reform Inn in Pilton. Conducted by Tim Webster from the Barum brewery, members were introduced to the delights of no less than 5 different local ales (Barum's own Breakfast, Original and Best, plus Country Life's Golden Pig and Board Break), all of which of course were served in excellent form. March also saw our branch AGM at the Ebrington Arms in Knowle, where some excellent ales were consumed amid the usual business of electing officers for the coming year, while the following week a large contingent of branch members also managed to attend the much celebrated Beer Festival at the Wellington Arms (the Welly) in Ilfracombe. From the 15 Devon ales on tap, Hanlon's Yellow Hammer and GT Ales Thirst of Many proved to be the best sellers. This popular event is now to become a regular Easter feature. Oh! - and let's not forget the enjoyable afternoon and evening spent at the Yeoford Ale Festival held annually in the splendid village hall - this year with no less than 25 real ales on offer!

April saw the North Devon Pub of the Year award presented to Mark and staff at the Bell in Chittlehampton, the first of several branch awards to be presented this year. In May it was the turn of the Cyder Presse at Weare Gifford to receive their award for Cider Pub of the Year, with the Bideford Conservative Club picking up the gong for the branch Club of the Year. (See our Congratulations page for more detail).

Ever popular in the branch calendar, a brewery visit is always something special, and for the 12 plucky branch members this visit to the Teignworthy brewery at Newton Abbot certainly lived up to expectations. With both Beachcomer and Gun Dog on tap, and a sumptuous lunch to follow, what better way to complete the day but with a visit to the nearby Teign Cellars - once part of the Newton Abbott workhouse but now home to no less than 170 bottled beers plus the brewery's 5 real ales. (And for several members there was a swift return to Newton Abbot later in the month - but this time as volunteer bar staff at the famed Tuckers Maltings beer festival where work behind the bar earns much needed income each year for the branch coffers).

Following on from the successful winter's Ale Trail through Braunton, this May saw branch members meeting up with colleagues from the Exeter branch on their Mild Trail through Topsham - albeit with time to visit only a small number of the original Topsham Ten pubs - but nonetheless a most enjoyable afternoon was had by all. Finally, once again this year, the late May bank holiday was witness to one of the branch's favourite events - the North Devon Beer Festival where over 25 real ales from across the north coast were showcased in a carnival atmosphere in the Barnstaple Pannier Market.

All this - and we're barely half way through the year! With many more enjoyable social events to come throughout the summer and autumn (see our branch calendar page or go on-line for more details), why not join us in North Devon CAMRA as we continue to promote, support and celebrate high quality real ale and cider?

We are having a music & ale event (plus food, wine & soft drinks) at The Brewery, with our very own Brewery band "Clear Waters Deep" playing in the evening. Brewery opening 2pm till 10pm at 1 Little Court, Manteo Way, Bideford, EX39 4FG

all our 2018 Branch Award Winners and Finalists

The most important decisions for any CAMRA branch are selecting the very best Real Ale pub, Cider pub, and Social club of the year. In North Devon we are spoilt for choice with well over three hundred pubs and clubs to choose from, many of which are of an excellent quality. So selecting the very best of the best to receive one of these prestigious awards is no easy task. It starts with forming a judging panel of 12 drawn from the ranks of branch Committee members and Pubs Officers who then, after hours of often fierce debate, agree a shortlist for each of the categories to be awarded. The next stage is for each of the panel members to visit each of the pubs/clubs shortlisted to assess the quality of ale/cider - on not one but at least two separate occasions (hard work I hear you say, but someone's got to do it?). Finally, when all the scores are collated, a single winner emerges, while the remaining finalists are also acknowledged for being in the ranks of the outstanding! And so - with congratulations to all this year's winners and finalists - the results of the 2018 North Devon CAMRA branch awards are as follows:

Branch Pub of the Year Winner

The Bell at Chittlehampton

Finalists

The Railway at North Tawton

The Grove at Kings Nympton

The Staghunters at Brendon

The Appledore Inn at Bideford

Branch Cider Pub of the Year Winner

The Cyder Presse at Weare Gifford

Finalists

The Grove at Kings Nympton
The Watergate at Barnstaple

Branch Club of the Year

The Conservative Club at Bideford

Finalist

Libbaton Golf Club at High Bickington

So, with the excitement over for another year, we look forward to the next big occasion for the branch in September when the 27 North Devon entries into the 2019 Good Beer Guide will be revealed.

Ps. It's congratulations also to Simon and Anna Lacey celebrating the 20th anniversary of their Country Life Brewery after brewing around 5 million delicious pints!

A.I. is too important to be left in the hands of machines.

The A.I. we're referring to isn't Artificial Intelligence, it's Ale Intelligence, of course. We're not technophobes, we just don't trust anything incapable of smelling, feeling or tasting to create something as delicately balanced as Landlord. That's why we have five hands-on, Heriot-Watt trained brewers involved in every step of the process, from barley delivery to filling the casks. This way, we can make sure that every sip of Taylor's is as delicious as humanly possible. Machines may one day take over the world, just be thankful you won't be around to drink their terrible beer.

All for that taste of Taylor's

Pub News

from around the Branch

With so many reports these days of pubs closing down across the country, it's always heartening to hear news of North Devon pubs re-opening after a period of closure. The Stag at Rackenford was relaunched in March, while at Westward Ho! the Beach Bar and Diner re-opened in April after a six month closure, sporting a new conservatory and now with Wadsworth IPA reported to be on sale. In Okehampton, the Plume of Feathers is now back in business, with landlord Steve stocking four well kept ales from the cask in addition to at least two craft beers on tap. Similarly in Ilfracombe the former Lamb Inn is now operating as the 'Thomas Carr Seafood and Bar Grill' offering two real ales with the promise of more in the up-market ground floor pub, while the beautifully restored Victorian dining room upstairs promises customers a fine dining experience.

So too in the near future can we look forward to the re-birth of several more much missed pubs which for one reason or another have endured extended periods of closure in recent times. Foremost amongst these is the Bell at Parkham, rising like a phoenix from the ashes after last year's devastating fire and now scheduled for an August re-opening, while the Farmers Arms at Woolsery is almost fully restored after being rescued from oblivion by the Bebo tech co-founder Michael Birch. Although less well advanced, major restoration work is also in evidence at both the Boathouse in Instow and the Royal George at Appledore, and we look forward to seeing all these once great pubs back fully operational before long.

Meanwhile, there's evidence of several other local pubs investing heavily in improvements designed to attract the discerning customer.

These include the Appledore Inn at Bideford and the Village Inn at Westward Ho!, both now fully operational following major kitchen refurbishments. The Westleigh Inn also has a new look about it, with a smart block paving patio and covered smoking area, while the car park has been leveled and stoned. At the Jack Russell in Swimbridge it's almost back to business as usual after February's devastating flood, and although still unable to offer food at the time of writing, they do at least have a functioning bar even if it is having to operate out of the skittle alley! News too of the Wizard brewery in Ilfracombe, now under new ownership, and thankfully once more selling Lundy Gold and Druid's Fluid at the Pier Tap and Grill.

On a less positive note unfortunately, following the recent sale of the Hartland Inn by auction, all signs that this was once a pub have since disappeared. Ominously, the Plymouth Inn at Okehampton now has a 'sold' sign outside, but what this means we await to see. Likewise the Exeter Inn at Chittlehamholt has closed its doors, though the reason is not yet clear, while the Rising Sun at Umberleigh is also reported to have closed.

Finally, a note of welcome to some new licensees. At the Ram's Head in Dolton we now have Nico and Vanessa who have recently relocated from the Vendee region of France, while Malcolm and Wendy McHugh from Co Tipperary have taken charge of the Old Smithy at Welcome - be sure to check out their upcoming Beer Festival planned for the 14th and 15th July!

STOP PRESS!

One of the most iconic pubs in the area - the Hunters Inn at Heddon Valley on the Exmoor coast - is to be taken over by the National Trust and managed by Bespoke Hotels on their behalf. Let's just hope that their tradition of excellent ales is maintained by the new management.

CAMRA Compliance with General Data Protection Act

WHAT IT MEANS TO YOU

As from 25th May this year the new General Data Protection Regulations 2016 superseded the Data Protection Act 1998. Like all other organisations, CAMRA has been required to review and update the ways in which the personal data of individuals is held.

CAMRA has been working on compliance with its dedicated Data Protection Officer for a number of years. This has enabled CAMRA to be fully prepared for the new legislation in time for the 25th May deadline. Existing processes have been reviewed, a new privacy policy has been put in place, internal communication tools modified and, perhaps most significantly, a new member preferences system has been developed.

CAMRA members now have the opportunity to take more control of their data by telling us exactly what they want to hear about the Campaign by easily updating their preferences on-line. This means fewer e-mails and letters about issues that aren't relevant to you, and better, more streamlined communication in those areas that are of interest.

Members may remember seeing an explanatory e-mail about this from our National Chairman, Jackie Parker, in April and no doubt many members have already expressed their preferences accordingly. If however, you have not yet done so, then it really is quite easy to do: Simply sign in to your account using your membership details at www.camra.org.uk

Select "Edit your membership information" to update your membership information and decide exactly what you want from CAMRA.

Bob Goddard

Membership Secretary & Vice Chair

The Wizard is Back!

We are not talking about Harry Potter here (nor our former Chairman!) - this is the Wizard Brewing Company based in Ilfracombe. New owner Carly O'Callaghan was persuaded by her husband John to take on the brewery to fulfill her lifetime ambition to become a Brewer. A longtime amateur brewer and lover of real ale, Carly has recently undertaken professional training to take her skills to the next level. Having purchased the brewery with rights to all the previous recipes, Carly began with a few test batches but the brewery is now fully operational. This has resulted in both Lundy Gold and Druids Fluid being sold in four pubs in the local area. With initial feedback being very positive, the next batches are already in production. We have however been asked to emphasize that the new Wizard brewery has no connection whatsoever to the previous owners. The intention is to replicate the beers as offered by the original founder of Wizard and restore the brewery's good name and fortunes.

No stranger to hard graft, Carly has previously worked as a herdsman, helping milk 550 cows on a daily basis! So when new branch chairman Mark Partridge and myself visited it was no surprise to see the evidence of a great deal of hard work with everything looking spic and span and ready for business. Assisted by husband John, Carly has a sound business plan, intending first to consolidate production around the two ales now being produced before slowly introducing other beers as sales expand. Bottled beers and small batch containers could also be next on the agenda.

Whilst still early days, Mark and I saw enough to convince us that Carly is likely to succeed with her plans and is certainly to be commended for her level headed approach to this ambitious enterprise. We look forward to reporting back on Wizard's progress in future editions of Beer Tiz. Hopefully in the not too distant future there will be an opportunity for a CAMRA members' tasting session, but in the meantime, if you see Wizard beers on offer, I recommend you give them a try. Carly has restarted the magic - and the Wizard is truly back!

Witterings from the Branch President

If you thought you had read the last of my Witterings I am sorry to disappoint you. Despite having passed the role of Chairman to Mark [I wish him well], I now have the honour of being Branch President and as such I feel duty bound to continue to grumble!

It has been an interesting couple of months since the last Beer Tiz and our Branch AGM. We now have a relatively new Committee with hardworking members changing responsibilities. I sincerely wish them well as they guide our branch forward.

This brought to mind the struggle for the future of CamRA in general. You can't have failed to be aware of the Revitalisation Project, the Members Weekend/Conference and AGM and the election of the National Executive. Parallels with our own branch can be drawn.

In my experience within any organisation or group there will always be those that want change and those that want things to stay the same. Both have a right to be heard and both are right in their views. Where this becomes detrimental to the wellbeing of the membership in general is when there is bullying, corruption and disrespect. If you have been following discussion in the media about CamRA you may well have witnessed a lot of teddies being thrown out of prams. Indeed this is still continuing although many responses are now telling these people to get over it and make the most of the future. I hope that this will apply to North Devon Branch as well. There is no room for this type of behaviour, in my opinion.

As with our own branch the future is exciting. We have new leadership and new active members to take the branch forward. I am looking forward to positive changes even though I still have concerns with unresolved issues and will continue to fight for what I think is right.

Despite moving aside at a branch level Fiona is continuing as Regional Secretary so we are still active at the next level up, representing our branch and encouraging all members to keep an eye on the bigger picture.

As I have said before, CAMRA is about having fun but it is not a real ale drinking club without purpose. It is also one of the biggest campaigning organisations in the country and members deserve to be represented at every level.

Happy grumbling

Morris Elsworth
(Aka Grumbledore)

EXMOOR ALES
A FINE TRADITION IN BREWING

Exmoor Ales founded in 1979, based in the historic brewing town of Wiveliscombe on the fringes of Exmoor National Park, is now the largest brewery in Somerset.

EXMOOR ALE • ABV 3.8%
The brewery's first beer and winner at GBIF 1980, Best Bitter. Pale brown beer with a malty aroma, a full dry taste and malty bitter finish. A classic session bitter.

EXMOOR FOX • ABV 4.2%
Cunningly crafted from a blend of several hops and malts to produce a mild brown beer of unusual subtlety and taste. Slight sweetness on the tongue is followed by a burst of hops and a lingering bitter-sweet aftertaste.

EXMOOR GOLD • ABV 4.5%
The original and first single malt "Golden Ale". Golden in colour with a malty aroma and flavour, a slight sweetness is complemented by its long happiness resulting in a remarkable, well rounded beer.

EXMOOR STAG • ABV 5.2%
Strong copper-coloured premium bitter, with a good malty taste, full hopped aroma and long dry finish. Originally brewed for Somerset County Cricket Club Centenary celebrations... as popular the brew became permanent.

EXMOOR BEAST • ABV 6.6%
Remarkably drinkable strong "Porter" style ale. Once a "Winter Warmer", now year round. Brewed making liberal use of chocolate and crystal malts. A smooth and complex beer with hints of fruitcake, nut, coffee and chocolate.
